WASHINGTON DC NEEDS ATLAS ARTS LAB

“It’s truly not an understatement to say that the Atlas Arts Lab Fellowship supercharged my creative process. The provision of dedicated studio space allowed me to experiment for a longer period of time than I’m normally afforded due to space costs. Beyond the studio, I loved connecting with the other Atlas Arts Lab Fellows and the community throughout the process. The culminating performance opportunity allowed me to share my work with a broader audience and to have new, complete works that I can present again for years to come. I’ll always remember the Atlas Arts Lab Fellowship as an instrumental chapter in my artistic story.” Arts Lab Artist

ATLAS PERFORMING ARTS CENTER ARTS LAB

Atlas Arts Lab is a program of the Atlas Performing Arts Center that provides a platform for individual artists to develop new work and to serve the community through engagement initiatives that encourage civic dialogue and community cohesion. The program provides space for rehearsal and performance based upon parameters as follows: Individuals will receive up to 9 hours of rehearsal time per week (a $10,000 value) generally scheduled in 3-hour blocks throughout the week.
